You work for an international company. Your company would like to start a corporate volunteering project. Corporate volunteering means that the staff of a company support charitable projects with time, work or fundraising events during their worktime.

You have been asked to write the text for a leaflet to promote corporate volunteering among your colleagues.

In your leaflet you should:

- give reasons why corporate volunteering can make the world a better place
- outline a specific charitable project
- highlight the positive aspects this charitable project could have on the employees

Divide your leaflet into sections and give them headings. Write around 250 words.
